

Upgrading the Pacific Highway

Woodburn to Ballina

Preferred route display

The NSW Roads and Traffic Authority has examined options for the upgrading of the Pacific Highway to two lanes in each direction from south of Woodburn to the previously approved Ballina Bypass.

A preferred option has been identified, including modifications in response to community submissions.

More information is available in the November 2005 community update and the Woodburn to Ballina Preferred Route Report.

Copies of the update and report are available by contacting the project website (details below).

The preferred route is on public display until Tuesday 31 January 2006.
